B.S., Tokyo, Japan K1, 7-15-2007 Trip report To start out it was raining. So we got on a motorcycle to start some bike riding. But we weren't quite going as fast as we thought we would (about 100 kph). It would get even more heavy on the inside as we started riding and my bike was getting too hot from the heater. So we decided to go on an easy round trip, so I ended up going on to Tokyo. By the time we got to Narita Airport (Narita International – International Airport – Tokyo Naito – Narita City), it was overcast and rainy already. So the first thing we did was grab dinner and get ready for the flight to Tokyo. Well, I had gotten into some trouble in Osaka and the taxi driver told me I needed to stop. So we went around the corner to the exit and tried to ignore the driver (who was in a hurry!). All of a sudden a big "WTF is going on!?" message popped up. Then, we could see there is another plane overhead. "WTF?!" I said to the driver, "I hope I don't get shot." After looking around for the other passengers, they noticed the plane in the sky above. And before we knew it, we were there. (Note: this was my third ride in Japan).. Jpn Rom - JPN Ver 2 Ver 2 (JP) Jpn Rom - JP Ver 3 Ver 3 (JP) 2.0 (HTC) (JP) Jpn Rom - JP Ver 3 (JP).

In order to be able to create our dream digital painting game and bring our campaign to life, we need to establish the funds necessary. We believe that any game of this magnitude requires a lot of time, money and talent from all levels of the game industry, so our primary goal isn't to simply have the money required to produce our digital painting game.. We feel confident that if the campaign is successful that we can raise the funds necessary to bring the dream of digital painting into reality and allow our Kickstarter community to play along with our digital painting game as we design and develop it.. Rewards may change without notice. We hope you enjoy the pledge items as much as we enjoyed creating the rewards for your pledge levels at this time. Risks and challenges We are in the process of prototyping a digital painting game where we want to focus our time primarily focusing on developing and optimizing the interface as well as developing the gameplay in order to maximize replayability in both the narrative and action sections. We intend for the game to only require 5% player interaction in order to be a compelling experience.. After boarding the plane, we were told we would meet up in the Tokyo Terminal on the way out to our hotel – Narita International – International Airport – Tokyo Naito – Narita City. It was going to cost ~$400 USD for a hotel stay. But once we told everyone we were taking it in the "big sky", we were told we would be off the plane within 10 minutes. At that time a passenger asked if we were going to see "Uji" (an incredible area in Narita – in the distance there is a giant train station) and I replied yes. But because I hadn't eaten yet and the restaurant wouldn't open until we sat down with dinner, we all sat around and watched while they prepared food in the kitchen. We didn't talk much and just listened to what they said. Just about the 10 minute mark when the "WTF" message came, we all heard a big crack, then all the lights came on again and we were whisked away in time. We were pretty happy by this point so we made our room at one - JP. Jpn Rom - JP Ver 3 Ver 3 (JP) Jpn Rom - JP Ver 2 Ver 2 (JP) 2.0 (Korean) (JP) Jpn Rom - JP Ver 2 Ver 2 (JP).
